Learning About Gender Identity and Fairness

Presenter: Encian Pastel and Gender Justice in Early Childhood

Friday, May 17, 2019

8:30 - 3:30

Goals for Children:

- * Children understand that they have agency in their gender identity and expression, in daily life as well as in play.
- * Children feel supported in their school environments to explore and express their gender(s).
- * Children validate and support other people's gender expressions and identities, including using requested names and pronouns.
- * Friendship, play, and social interaction amongst children of different genders is part of the classroom culture.
- * Children participate in a wide variety of activities necessary for their full cognitive and social-emotional development.
- * Children recognize gender bias and stereotypes in the classroom and in the world, and understand that they hurt people.
- * Children respond to gender bias in supportive, constructive ways, and seek to right wrongs.
