

Project Based Learning

October 5, 6, & 7, 2015

8:30 a.m. ~ 3:30 p.m.

The workshop will be conducted by a consultant from the Buck Institute for Education who has developed specific Project Based Learning models which draw on:

- The experiences of teachers
- Recent research on student learning
- Instructional models that incorporate authentic assessment, community based education, service learning internships or career academy curriculum

Each participant will receive a copy of the Project Based Learning Handbook, which includes project ideas, management tools and multiple assessment examples.
