Hall Leadership teaches students how to take positive action in the world through collaboration, inclusion and community outreach.

Hall Leadership is a class for 7th and 8th graders whose aim is to develop individual and group capacity to effect positive change in the world. Students learn and practice leadership skills which include communication and public speaking, leadership styles, goal setting, organizational skills, project planning, and team-building.

Leadership students collaborate to develop a wide range of activities and events that build unity and enhance the culture of Hall Middle School. Leadership is responsible for the planning and execution of the majority of the school's functions and activities.

This program provide students with opportunities to create, plan, lead, and evaluate co-curricular activities, and encourages the development of positive peer-peer relationships as well as student-faculty relationships. Additionally, Leadership develops authentic learning experiences in the community and at district elementary schools, Neil Cummins and The Cove.
